In addition, we will inform our readers about the latest drugs receiving Food and Drug Administration (FDA) approval.

Dr. Perry Robins, JDD Editor-in-Chief and Mohs Surgery Pioneer, Joins Emerald Medical Applications

Emerald Medical Applications Corp., the Israeli-based company engaged in the development and sale of DermaCompare, its proprietary artificial intelligence technology and application for the early diagnosis of melanoma and other skin cancers, announced that Dr. Perry Robins has joined the Company's Medical Advisory Board.

Dr. Robins is Professor Emeritus of Dermatology and was Chief of the Mohs Micrographic Surgery Unit at New York University Medical Center for over forty years. He has performed more than 47,000 Mohs surgical procedures, and trained doctors from around the world. He is also the Founder and President of The Skin Cancer Foundation, an international organization dedicated to skin cancer awareness, research, and public and medical education.
